INTRODUCTION.

THE Editors of the following Account think it needleſs to make any Excuſe or Apology for publiſhing the following Pedigree; as it is deſign'd only for the Uſe of themſelves and their Families, and therefore have none to make an Excuſe or Apology to.

GENEALOGIES, it is well known, are of as antient a Date as the Formation of Man: Tho' all have not been of equal Uſe and Importance to Mankind in general (Preference being given more eſpecially to thoſe contained in the Holy Scriptures, for univerſal Utility, where the ſacred Volume comes) yet Genealogies have been of Uſe among all civilized Nations, Time immemorial; to the great Advantage and Benefit of Mankind, in Empires, Kingdoms, Countries, Towns, &c. There have been ſome ſpecial Advantages therefrom accruing to private Families alſo. And we can eaſily conceive of many good Reaſons for the Continuance of Genealogies in Families; as it may give Demonſtration of the Power, Faithfulneſs and Goodneſs of GOD to their Anceſtors; excite in their Children, and Children's Children, Thankfulneſs, Hope and Dependance on the GOD of their Fore-Fathers. And alſo, where their Anceſtors have led pious and religious Lives, been exemplary in their Converſation, &c. it may excite in their Decendants a laudable Ambition to imitate thoſe Things that were excellent, praiſeworthy and amiable in them.

It is not to be expected, that a particular and minute Account ſhould be given, of the Family of Stebbins, before their firſt coming from England, to ſettle in this Land. Let it ſuffice then, that the Compiler of the following Pages has been informed, there was one came from England, ſettled in Roxbury (next Town to Boſton) ſoon after the Engliſh Plantations began in New-England. His Name was ROWLAND STEBBINS, who had two Sons, one ſettled at Springfield, and the other at Northampton, in the County of Hampſhire. The Name of the eldeſt was Thomas, and the other John. * Thomas ſettled at Springfield ſoon after the Incorporation of that Town—who had five Sons, viz. Samuel, Thomas, Benjamin, Joſeph and Edward. Samuel was born, September 19th, 1646 (ten Years after the Town was firſt ſettled.)

The Head of the Family hereafter named, was Son of Samuel, laſt mention'd. The Time of his Birth, Marriage and Death may be ſeen in a following Page. As the Manner of his Life may be of ſome excellent Uſe to his ſurviving Offspring, I would take Leave to draw his Character. And it rather ſeems to devolve on me, as I firſt (not without conſiderable Pains) began the Plan of the following Pages, & brought it to the State in which it now appears.

He was a kind and tender Huſband to our honor'd Mother—an affectionate and bountiful Father to his Children. He was very Laborious in the ſeveral Callings of Life which he was employed in; and was exceeding frugal in his Expences, that ſo he might the better provide for her, and the numerous Offspring he ſaw riſing under his Care.

Altho'

* John, (as has been obſerv'd) went to Northampton, and from him (as I've been well inform'd) deriv'd the Families of the Stebbins's that went to Deerfield before that Town was deſtroy'd in 1704, and thoſe that now are there are their Deſcendants. One Family went up to Northfield, on the ſettling of that Town. And one Family, to eſcape the Dangers and Calamity of War, mov'd to Ridgfield, in Connecticut, where they now remain.

Altho' his Eſtate was ſmall, compared to many of his Neighbours; yet, under his wife and prudent Oeconomy, of that little he had, he liv'd to ſee ſeven Sons and two Daughters, ſettled comfortably in the World.

Notwithstanding his great Aſſiduity in his Particular calling; yet he was far from neglecting the Education of his Children (either himſelf or through his Influence) in thoſe Arts and Sciences his Circumſtances would admit, as ſeemed moſt likely to him would be beneficial to, and render us uſeful and ſerviceable to our fellow-men in the World.

He took great Care to inſtruct us in Reading and Writting; (in this we are Evidences) he exceeded moſt, and had but few Equals. Nor was his Care limited to this only, but was extended more eſpecially to our future and everlaſting Welfare, by ſetting before us his great Veneration of the Holy Word of GOD. His Example alſo of Reading it in a ſteady Manner before Family Prayer, which I am a Witneſs he ſcarce ever Omitted for near twenty Years before I left him.

He took ſpecial Care to inſtruct us in the Principles of that Holy Religion which he profeſſed. And one of the Methods in doing which, was, to inſiſt much on our Learning the Aſſembly of Divines Catechiſm with the Proofs at Length. And we all know how ſteadily he aſked us the Queſtions every Lord's Day after Divine Service in the Afternoon. We all may well remember what Veneration he ſhewed for the Lord's Day; beginning it ſoon after Sun ſet, allowed no worldly Buſineſs to be done (even to a Scruple) nor any worldly Converſation till the Sabbath was ended.

He was alſo Charitable to the Poor and Needy, as Opportunity preſented, and Ability allowed, I may add, in a peculiar Manner was he ſo to Strangers. He was temperate in his Living, and very Savory in his Converſation. He was much for Peace, a great Enemy to Law-ſuits; (of the which I never knew he had any.)

He

He had great Regard for the Houſe and Worſhip of GOD, and was peculiarly ſteady in his Attendance on the Word preached. He was very careful in his Preparations for the Lord's Table, making it a Practice to ſpend the whole of each Friday, previous to the Sacrament, in Faſting and Prayer. He ſpake with great Reſpect of the Miniſters of CHRIST, when mention was made of them.

He was of a ſcrupulous and tender Conſcience, did not act raſhly, but muſt be well ſatisfied before he gave his Aſſent. I could Inſtance in many Things but omit them except in one only. §

He was favoured with a good Conſtitution, whereby, by a good Regimen of living attended with the Bleſſing of GOD, he was able to Labour till a few Years before his Death.

When he was laid by through Age and Infirmity, he ſpent his Time much in Reading (chiefly in a Room by himſelf) Meditation and Prayer. He ſtudied the Holy Scriptures. Yet making uſe of many other Writings on Divine Subjects. He had a great Eſteem of the Rev'd Mr. Willard, Mr. Stoddard, Mr. Thomas Boſton Mr. Flavel, and Works of that Stamp.

The Illneſs of which he died was ſhort, in which he was exerciſed with great Pain, yet at Interludes was very full of good Advice. A great Part of the Time he ſpent in earneſt Prayer to GOD, for an actual preparation for Death, and a Bleſſed Eternity. It was obſerved by the Family (and ſome of the Viſitors) eſpecially by his youngeſt Son, who was his conſtant Attendant the laſt Fortnight of his Life, that ſuch a fervency of Spirit,

§ He was under great Doubts with Reſpect to the lawful partaking of the Lord's Supper, having early imbibed the Principle, that Aſſurance of ſanctifying Grace was neceſſary, in Order to a lawful Attendance on that Ordinance; he had great concern at Times, in living in the neglect of it. Dare not think of turning his Back on ſuch an Inſtitution of CHRIST, ſo expreſly enjoined on his Diſciples, and ſome Years before his Death, he was ſo far ſatisfied of its being his Duty, that he became a Member of the Church of CHRIST at Long-Meadow.

Spirit, and ardency of Soul, ſtriking Thoughts of Eternity, are rarely to be met with.

He was very full of Advice to his Children, he warned them of the Danger of ſinful Courſes. Exhorted them to follow on in the Practice of true Religion; that ſo their end might be Peace.

He was greatly Concerned for the welfare of his children's Children, and therefore charged, repeatedly Charged their Parents, to bring them up in the Fear of GOD. Not deal with a ſlack Hand, reſtrain them from Sin, ſet before them good Examples, warn them to flee youthful Vanities, inſtruct them, and beware of looſing their Authority over them. For he view'd it, that where good Government was not maintained in Families, Religion wou'd not long be a Gueſt there.

As this lay with great Weight on his Mind, ſo it was what he urged upon us till his his laſt. And as he lived a Life of Religion; ſo he died leaving a Charge on us to follow his ſteps.

And although he did not leave this World with ſo clear Views of a glorious Immortality, as many have done, yet not without Hope. And I think we who were acquainted with his Manner of living, may charitably hope and believe, that after he had ſerved GOD in his generation, he at laſt fell aſleep in JESUS, and is one of that Number that GOD will bring with him.

Nor can I forget the mentioning our dear and honor'd Mother, by whoſe mild, tender and pious Care we were ſo gently nurſed up; the Labour and Travail of which, none but Mothers can tell. But muſt I here break off abruptly, and drop my pen? No! Her diſtinguiſhed Worth was ſeen by us, and the genuine Effects thereof felt (altho' her burdens were not.) Her Piety, Faithfulneſs, Meekneſs and Patience, makes her Memory precious to us all, and ought to be imitated by us. True it is, through a feeble Conſtitution, together with the Concern and Burden that naturally lay upon her; ſhe was brought into a low State of Health, till by Degrees it terminated in almoſt a confirmed State of Melancholly, which proved a great Hindrance to that Serenity of Mind which naturally flows from a devout Affection of Heart towards GOD, and the Saviour JESUS CHRIST; yet it never prevented her devout Attendance on all the outward Means of Grace, both public, private and ſecret. She daily read much in the holy Scriptures, eſpecially the New Teſtament, the Pſalms, and thoſe Prophets that wrote moſt of CHRIST. * She never neglected any Opportunity in partaking of the holy Communion, for which ſhe had a great affection & Reverence. But yet that Gloom that ſat upon her Mind, might very naturally prevent thoſe clear Views of the Virtue and Excellency of that all-ſufficient Sacrifice, which JESUS paid once for all, which ſhe had had in a better State of Health (as ſhe expreſſed it to me.)

One Thing may not be improper to mention, which ſhe told me, viz. When the Rev'd Mr. Whitefield (of precious Memory) firſt came to New-England, who was ſo famous, and whoſe preaching had ſo much Succeſs attending it, for the Conviction, and hopeful Converſion of many, and the Increaſe of Grace, and Comfort of Saints, &c. ſhe was in great Diſtreſs, knowing her bodily Health was ſo impaired ſhe could not attend on his preaching when he ſhould come to Springfield.† Thus it continued for ſeveral Days before he came; ſhe fearing being left while others were taken, or denied that Comfort which others enjoyed. She ſought unto the LORD, and ſpread her Cauſe before him, who was pleaſed to give an Anſwer of Peace: For when the Day came, and all were gone to hear him; ſhe had Views of the Glory of JESUS CHRIST, and a comfortable Hope of her ſaving Intereſt in him; and thoſe bleſſed Words came to her with animating and reviving

* This I know, as I lived then at home, and for a Number of Years together was much with her.

† He preached at the old Pariſh about four Miles from Long-Meadow, where ſhe lived, reviving Power, " Daughter, be of good Cheer, your " Sins are forgiven you." §

It was this weak State of her's that gave Occaſion for that peculiar Tenderneſs, Wiſdom and Prudence exerciſed by our honor'd Father towards her. What Coſt did he ſpare? What Pains did he not take, to comfort and relieve, to counſel and adviſe, in thoſe Days of Diſtreſs? And not without ſome Succeſs. A great Deal of Time he ſpent in reading to her ſome of the beſt Authors, on Subjects moſt adapted to her preſent Caſe; among which was a Book of the Rev'd and famous Mr. Baxter's One the moſt ſuitable, in Caſes of Melancholy perhaps of any now extant.

The latter Part of her Life was more comfortable to herſelf and Friends, and her Faith and Hope never fail'd even to the laſt; and ſhe left the World in Peace, with a good Hope of being with GOD in Glory.

She's gone! we ſee her pious Soul ariſe,
And with attending Angels through the Skies,
Who ſwift conduct her to the heav'nly Gate)
Where Churches ſit, and kindeſt Angels wait, (
Her Saviour bid her come, which made her Bliſs) complete.)

Our Parents! where are they!——

Some very uſeful Reflections naturally ariſe in the Mind, on the foregoing. But I ſhall not pretend to point out any in particular. But may we all of us, elder or younger, ſo live in Love and Peace, and follow after the Things that make for Peace; and imitate our worthy Parents, in all Things that were excellent and praiſe-worthy; and follow them wherein they followed CHRIST. May GOD of of his infinite Mercy grant.

Kensington, April 19th, 1771.

§ I mention this, not only as Matter of Comfort, but alſo to guard againſt ſetting too high a Value upon particular Men, or Means; not ſo duly conſidering that 'tis GOD that worketh both to will and to do. Paul may plant, and Apollos water, &c.
